

Grace perfects the soul and all of its powers. The whole human being is perfected by grace: the soul is divinized in its essence, all the various faculties of the soul are perfected, and the body itself is sanctified by its relation to the soul (and inasmuch as the soul's lower powers are tied up with the body).

Oars of the boat

Sails of the boat